Sketching/Photo Day
In DOWNTOWN PETALUMA

Wednesday --- July 30, 2008
10:00 – 3:00

Petaluma, founded in 1852, is one of California's oldest cities with one of the best-preserved Historical Downtown areas on the National Register of Historic Places. It features Spanish Colonial, Queen Ann, Victorian, Neo Classical, Gothic Revival and Italianate architecture. We will browse this town with our cameras and sketchpads to document the things that catch our interests. Donna will be available to assist you with your sketching and to discuss composition and drawing techniques. This is a self-paced day, however we will have a mid-day break at either a sidewalk café, (a great place to pose for each other for those popular café scenes) or picnic area of your choice. Feel free to bring your own snacks to enjoy at your leisure. Our day will end with a group critique of the day's work.

Donna Reine Taylor is a graduate of Rudolph Schaeffer's School of Design where she further developed her drawing skills after receiving her academic degree as an Art Major. These skills later proved to be essential during presentations made by her as a commercial interior designer. She now finds that her ability to sketch what she sees has contributed immeasurably to her pleasure of painting.

Supplies needed: A drawing pad no smaller than 12" x 16", erasers, and graphic drawing pencils ranging from hard to soft lead. Feel free to bring any other sketching supplies of your choice such as pens and colored pencils. Don't forget your camera.

Location: Approximately 20 miles North of Central San Rafael. Take the Southern Petaluma Blvd. exit off of Hwy 101. Continue to "C" street where you will see Walnut Park on your left. You can temporarily park your car here for our meeting at 10:00 AM. Donna will then direct you to the nearby free parking garage where you can leave your car for the day.

Registration: The cost is $35 for this one-day workshop. Please send your check in full to: Donna Reine Taylor, 140 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, CA 94901.
