

DONNA REINE TAYLOR STUDIO

WORKSHOP SCHEDULE- November 15 - December 16, 2010

Oil Painting Workshops: Each workshop will consist of three hours of instruction given one day a week during a five-week period. Due to the restricted size of the classes no refunds are given for absences during the five-week sessions, however make-up classes can be scheduled within the session when space is available. Each of these workshops is suitable for all levels of experience since individual attention is emphasized in classes not to exceed five people. Students are welcome to paint any subject of their choice using personal photos, reference material from the studio or still life set-ups. Critiques of a student's previously completed work or assistance in completing any unfinished paintings are also offered.

Location: 140 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, and CA. 94901. To get there, go east on Second Street, which becomes Pt. San Pedro Road. This will take you along the water toward McNear Beach. San Marino Drive is the next left turn after the entrance to McNear Beach. Upon arrival, come through the front gate and the studio is on your right through the French Doors.
